L.O. To describe the characteristics features of the life of an anglo-saxon

The Anglo-Saxon village.

The ~~radio~~ reason why they built their houses by the river was to in case someone tries to invade they would have to cross the water first so it would give them longer to try and get away and try to prepare to fight.

They breed animals to get food and also they needed them for the poo to make the house stick together.

The Anglo-Saxon people.

The Anglo-Saxons decided to invade Britain and settle there because it had a lot of place for farming and growing crops.

Watchtowers and churches.

In Anglo-Saxon times churches were made up because they were used as watchtowers so they wouldn't get attacked.

Dear mum and dad,

You have considered how slaves would have felt

I'm still alive (surprisingly) but I still am on this revolting ship! Now I don't mean to upset you but I hate it here. Everywhere you walk you're either going to be stepping in urine, faeces, blood or sweat. We only get taken up to deck once a day to get washed and be forced to dance for exercise. Anyway I have to go.
Hope you're okay - Love you Elizabeth x

P.S. 260 people were all crammed on one ship lying in all kinds
We had no choice.

L.O - Life as a slave.

Each day got harder for these slaves, they had to do hard work all time with no break. They worked for hours on end non-stop. ✓

In the slave auctions they were treated so inhumane it was unbelievable. They were separated from their families. ~~separated~~ ✓

They got a giant metal stamp impressed into their skin and it would say their initials. ✓

Slaves were whipped, beat and given a punishment collar with spikes and it made it impossible to lie down. ✓
